Mutual Nondisclosure Agreement

The Mutual Nondisclosure Agreement (the "Agreement"), dated as of _____, is between _____, a _____ corporation ("Company"), and _____, a _____ corporation ("Client"). To explore the possibility of a business relationship between and Company, each party ("Discloser") may disclose sensitive information to the other ("Recipient"). The parties agree as follows:

1. Definitions. The term "Proprietary Information" means, to the extent previously (whether or not) lawfully disclosed by or for Discloser to Recipient, all financial, business, legal or technical information of Discloser or any of its affiliates, suppliers, customers and employees (including information about research, development, operations, marketing, sales, contracts, regulatory affairs, discoveries, inventions, methods, processes, articles, products, formulas, algorithms, software, specifications, designs, drawings, data, strategies, plans, programs, know-how and ideas, whether tangible or intangible, and including all notes, concepts, calculations, analyses and other derivatives thereof), that is marked or otherwise identified as proprietary or confidential at the time of disclosure, or that by its nature would be understood by a reasonable person to be proprietary or confidential. "Proprietary Information" shall not include any information that (a) was rightfully known to Recipient without violation before receipt from Discloser, (b) is rightfully disclosed to Recipient without violation by a third party, (c) is or becomes generally known to the public without violation of this Agreement by Recipient or (d) is independently developed by Recipient or its employees without access to or reliance on such information. Discloser hereby warrants and represents to Recipient that it is authorized to disclose any and all Proprietary Information that is available to Recipient under this Agreement.

2. Restrictions. As to the other party's Proprietary Information, Recipient agrees (a) to use the Proprietary Information only for its consideration internally of a business relationship or transaction between the parties, and in performance of any existing arrangement but not for any other purpose, (b) to maintain the Proprietary Information as confidential, and exercise reasonable precautions to prevent any unauthorized access, use or disclosure, (c) not to copy the Proprietary Information, (d) not to disclose the Proprietary Information to any third party other than Recipient's employees and agents who have a need to know for the permitted purpose and who are apprised of the confidential nature of the Proprietary Information and all of the restrictions in this Agreement, (e) not to decompile, disassemble or otherwise reverse engineer any Proprietary Information, or use any similar means to discover its underlying composition, structure, source code or trade secrets and (f) not to export or re-export any Proprietary Information or product thereof in violation of U.S. or other export control laws or regulations. The terms and conditions of any transaction or possible transaction between the parties, the fact that disclosures, evaluations or discussions are taking place, and the status and results thereof will also be held in confidence by both parties.
